

KING SPORT HOLDS LIMELIGHT TODAY FOR THANKSGIVING FANS—FOOTBALL AND RACING COMMISSION TO GET SEE'S CASE

ZEB MILAN IN RECORD STUNT

Tennessee Flyer Set New Mark for Stolen Bases. National Repeat Spurt.

Besides the two records mentioned, Milan set a new American League record when he stole eighty-eight bases.

"They will never repeat," was the wail of almost all the fans. It is too good to be repeated. They were disappointed, for in 1913, the second year under the Old Fox, they came right back with second place to their credit, the Athletics beating them out.

Since then the records show that the Nationals have finished in the first division on three other occasions, and but for the loss of a game would have made it six times for the first division. If the fans will look back to the morning of the last day in 1917 when the team finished seventh that on that morning the team was in fourth place, but in trying out several youngsters on account of the old players being out of condition the team lost a double header and went from fourth to seventh. That shows how close the teams were bunched.

Many changes in managers of the Senators:

FOOD FOR FANS.

The Boston Braves, that have trained at Miami for the past three years, will this season train at Palm Beach, Fla.

All the time that Ben Johnson was telling the world that no person could ever see the papers in his office, he was telling the truth. The fact is, Ben Johnson could not have shown them, for the very good reason they have been in the possession of Charles Comiskey since the world series was played. When the three Musketeers served Johnson with an order secured from court, and when they were served the Big Chief invited "Commy" to call and get what he wanted, and as the Chicago magnate wanted a lot, it is certain that it took a wagon or dray to haul the papers over to the White Sox Park, where they have been ever since.

Charley Herzog says he does not think Frank Baker will be back with the Yankees, for he told Herzog that he was through. Well, he said that five years ago, but his name appeared in the box scores ever since. It is bound to come true some day, if Frank lives long enough.

VIRGINIA IS READY TO BATTLE CAROLINA

Piedmont, Va., Nov. 26.—Virginia and North Carolina are all set for their first gridiron struggle since 1912 when the "Tar Heels" were victorious by the score of 7 to 0, after having been defeated twelve times in a row. Freshmen teams from these institutions have met since that time, but this is the first time since the Carolina victory.

This year for the first time in the history of the institution the game will be played in North Carolina. Emerson Field at Chapel Hill will be the battle ground. Already extensive preparations have been made for the handling of nearly 10,000 persons, who are expected to come from all sections of the country to witness the conflict.

Juniors After Games.

The P Street Juniors would like to arrange a game with any 125-pound team in the District for Saturday. Address Milton Brown, 1255 H Street northeast.

Cubs Play Annapolis.

The Cubs' football team will leave this morning at 9:30 for Annapolis, Md., where they are scheduled to meet the Annapolis Stars in their annual battle.

SERVICE TEAMS HALT PRACTICE FOR BIG GAME

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 26.—Heavy work will be placed on the black-list after today's scrimmage between the Navy regulars and scrubs. Only light signal work will be indulged in tomorrow in preparation for the Army game Saturday.

Coch Doble is working the Midlands out behind closed doors. It is said he is satisfied with everything but the kicking department, in which King is being tutored over time.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Only light work, consisting of the Army schedule in preparation for Saturday's game with the Navy in New York.

Signal practice alone is billed for tomorrow, and the team will be in the line to enter for New York, where Army headquarters will be established at the Hotel Astor. They will have their final workout Friday on the Polo Grounds.

GALLAUDET ELEVEN PLAYS WAR RISK

Gallaudet will wind up its season this afternoon when it plays the War Risk eleven. Coach Hughes has been out for a short signal drill yesterday.

All of the men, with the exception of Matthew, the diminutive full-back, are in first-class condition, and will be in the line-up today. Matthew has been suffering from a bad leg all week and it is unlikely that he will be able to play. The line-up follows:

Position	Player
Quarterback	War Risk
Running Back	War Risk
Fullback	War Risk
Wide Receiver	War Risk
Tight End	War Risk
Left Tackle	War Risk
Center	War Risk
Right Tackle	War Risk
Linebacker	War Risk
Defensive Back	War Risk
Kicker	War Risk

FINAL DRILL HELD FOR BOSTON BATTLE

Georgetown's football warriors were out working hard yesterday in preparation for the game with Boston College at Fenway Park on Saturday. The squad held practice scrimmage for an hour and then a signal drill was taken up. Several new plays were worked out that will be used in this contest with the Hub City college.

Coach Exendine expects much from his two new halfbacks, Flavin and Miley, who will be better in this game, as they have had more time to perfect themselves in the general play of the team. Johnny McQuade will be back in the line-up and that will give it more punch, as he is a hard man to stop when once he gets under way. The squad leaves here tonight for the Hub.

BROOKLANDERS ARE READY FOR WESLEYAN

Charlestown, Nov. 26.—Coach Tom Tracy and the Catholic University squad arrived here today and will hold a short signal practice this afternoon for the battle tomorrow. The Brooklanders expect to hold down the score against West Virginia Wesleyan, which is considered one of the toughest teams on the schedule of the visitors. This will be the final game of the Catholic University season, and the Brooklanders expect to make a good showing against the home team.

Quentin Eleven Plays.

The Quentins have arranged a game with the Olympia A. C. today at 10:30 at Seventeenth and E streets southeast. The following players are requested to be at the clubhouse at 9 a. m.: B. Heath, Cornell, Heckenkaner, Haveren, De Mar, Tolleson, Hankins, Johnson, B. Heath, Cornell, Heckenkaner, Haveren, De Mar, Tolleson, Hankins, Johnson, B. Heath, Cornell, Heckenkaner, Haveren, De Mar, Tolleson, Hankins, Johnson.

Indians Do Not Play.

The Mohawks will not play today because of the annual graw ride and dance held last night. The "Indians" will battle the Triangle A. C. at Seventeenth and D streets southeast Sunday.

Basket Tossers Meet.

All basketball officials, coaches and players will be interested in the announcement of the important meeting to be held here on December 6 at 2 p. m. at the Washington Hotel.

Sport World Stars Who May Well Be Thankful

TWO and THREE Putting the Next One Over With BUGS BAER

THE OLD GRUDGE

The old graduate is now an old graduate.

He's packing a two-humped grudge like a camel. He's a college dromedary.

'You can't blame the old boy much. He travels from the boot-leger district of Alabama, from Mack Sennett's flapper spangled beaches of California; aye, brother, even from the thug orchards of Chicago. He treks from the decimal dotted beer plateaus of Manhattan and from the lemon extract soires of Wyoming.

He comes from the ends of the earth. From all ends of the planet; yea, even from the butt end in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he lives who thinks that blood is thicker than water and grape juice thicker than both.

And why travel the old grudge? To pipe his old alum mutter play some mutts from some alama mutter in the former well-known game of football.

And what seeth the old grudge? Football? Not by a boatload. He pipes something that looks as if it gave the cat an awful fight before kitty dragged it in. It ain't football and it ain't ping pong. It's something weird and wonderful, never seen before on land or sea. It could be anything if you left your specs home.

The old days are gone when a lad went to college to eat. Gone are the old nights when a boy went to college to drink. Vanished are the times when the star football players drew paychecks instead of diplomas.

The old grudge sees none of the old-timers whose college studies consisted of open air and calisthenics. Where are Chalky Brown, Scabby Spangler and Lefty Naylor of dear old Moyamensing University? Where are Yallerbelly Winterknight and Doc Giest, of Kirkbride Seminary? Those babies played football like old Terry McGovern hallyhoed in a 10-round shindig. Both hands and twice as many feet. Nobody ever earned a college letter unless he earned a college oyster for his eye.

Football was football in those days before Walter Camp started picking All-American teams from among players on the Rules Committee.

As Boze Bulger chirped, the father of football would never recognize his son now. The flying wedge, the tandem, the hurdle and the guardsback are gone where the smilax twined and the grass is ever green. Their places have been taken, but not filled, by the forward pass, the line shift and the protest.

What's become of the old game when one foot on the other guy's face wasn't offside, provided the other foot was on the carpet? Now the old grudge pipes a lot of birds who throw around forward passes like a monkey curving coconuts. It's a good thing for the world that the Rules Committee wasn't allowed to pick on the A. E. F. We'd be saving the logs instead and the Kaiser would be our foreman.

There was never any pasteboard left after an 1880 star got through eating a charlotte russe. Those birds were cannibals.

As the old grudge squawks when an old-time football cuckoo played he thought of college and father.

This year's player thinks of home and mother.

The sentiment is excellent, but give us back the old games that everybody could enjoy almost as much as the village embalmer.

PARSON OUT OF PINEHURST MATCH

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 26.—The first match round of the annual autumn tournament played on the championship course at Pinehurst today produced several upsets in the first six matches. The first match, a 36-hole match between the medalist, was defeated 4 and 3 by Howard G. Phillips, of Moore County, and Donald Parson, of Chevy Chase, was sent downstairs to the consolation section by Richard Garlick, of Youngstown, who won by 2 up.

Brains Will Tell.

London, Nov. 26.—"Carpenter's brain will best Beckett's muscle," Manager Deschamps said today at the training quarters of the French heavy-weight champion, speaking of the 20-round fight December 4 with Joe Beckett.

Abel Southern Champ.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 26.—Jake Abel, welterweight champion of the A. E. F., laid claim to the Southern title when he outpointed Vic Moran, Southern welter champion, of New Orleans, in a 10-round fight.

Keegan for Empire Track.

Superintendent Frank J. Keegan, who looks after the Laurel race track, has gone to Empire City, N. Y., to beautify James Butler's plant there the same as was done at Laurel this fall.

Play Marine Preps.

The Naval Apprentice School will play the Marine Prep School at 10:30 a. m. at Fifteenth and H street northeast. All naval apprentice players report at 9:30 a. m.

Johnny McCabe Beaten.

At the Grand Central pocket billiard tournament last night Johnny McCabe was defeated by Bohman by 45 to 58. Tomorrow night Bohman will play Rhinehard in the next block. There will be no game tonight.

Tonight's Fight Card.

Main Bout—Mike Uraime, of Washington, vs. Young Kid Broad, of Philadelphia; fifteen rounds to a decision.

Semi-windup—Joe Swartz, Washington newboy, vs. Young Kilbane, of Akron; six rounds to a decision.

First Preliminary—Kid Turner, Navy Yard "Bearcat," vs. "Toots" Brown, Washington "Red Cap;" six rounds to a decision.

Four-round battle ropes between warriors from Baltimore and Washington will open show.

Referee—Main bout, P. P. O'Connor; semi-windup and preliminaries, Danny O'Brien.

Place—Maryland Athletic and Social Club of Ardmore, Md.

Time—First bout promptly at 8 o'clock.

PRESIDENT HEYDLER ON A VISIT HERE

President John A. Heydler, of the National League, was a visitor in the city yesterday. The National League was here to see some of its relatives.

It was in Washington that John first gained fame as a baseball man. He did a lot of work on figures for the late Nick Young.

When seen on Pennsylvania avenue and asked about the trouble of the American League, he stated that it was not his fight and refused to make any statement.

GIRL HOCKEY TEAMS WILL BATTLE TODAY

A championship field hockey game for women will be played on the Ellipse at 10 o'clock this morning. The contending sides being the Maryland team and the Washington team, both of Physical Recreation Department, Community Service.

STATE WILL BATTLE HOPKINS FOR TITLE

Maryland State will journey to Baltimore this morning for its annual battle with Johns Hopkins at Homewood Field this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Upon the outcome of this battle, which has been won by the College Park team for the last five years without their goal line being crossed by Hopkins.

MIKE LYNCH'S SQUAD READY FOR RACE

It is expected that the entry list for the South Atlantic Association annual cross-country championship race will find twenty athletes ready for the starting signal in the hill and dale run in the Monumental City today, which gets under way at 11 o'clock.

Turns Offer Down.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Syracuse University has turned down the offer of the Oregon Agricultural College to play a football game at Portland, Dec. 8, because Syracuse has already played nine games, and has one more game on Thanksgiving day at Lincoln, Neb., with University of Nebraska.

"Y" Boys in Hike.

The Thanksgiving Day run is to be held this morning at 10 o'clock under the auspices of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. Prospects for this run are good, as seventy-five entries have been received.

Gunnery Play Vincomes.

The Naval Gunnery football team will not play today, as they are scheduled to meet the Vincomes A. C. team of Philadelphia at the Government Recreation Field Sunday.

Wolfe-Burman Matched.

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 26.—Joe Burman, Chicago, and Kid Wolfe Cleveland, were matched to battle here for twelve rounds on December 12. It was announced today.

Trinity vs. Roamers.

The Trinity Athletic Club will play the Roamers A. C. this morning on the Seventeenth and B streets grounds in Potomac Park.

Around the festive board of the sport fans will be seated today, in spirit if not in flesh, champions new and old.

Walter Hagen, winner of the metropolitan and open golf championship, will be there.

"Kid" Gleason, smiling even though his hopes of a world's champion ball club were denied, still can be thankful that he won the championship in the American League.

Seated next to him will be Pat Moran, leader of the world's champion Reds, gloomily gazing out upon a world in which there is nothing left to conquer.

The sport fan, smiling over the return of sports after the eclipse by war, bearing in his hands the turkey, symbol of thanksgiving.

Jack Dempsey, no longer a contender, but "The Champion," smiles thankfully when he thinks of the past ten months.

Willie Hoppe, supreme in the world of billiards, sees no rival to mar his Thanksgiving dinner.

And the unknown, too is there. The college football champion, the hero of the undergraduate, as yet unselected and over the naming of whom much ink and good white paper will be wasted.

All will partake of their thanksgiving cheer with right good will in memory of a year which has brought to each much of profit and pleasure.

Boxing Will Be Revived at Ardmore Club Tonight

Professional boxing again makes its bow to local pugilistic fans. Long before "Wild Kaiser Bill" started something that he failed to finish, boxing in the near-by vicinity was given the go by the followers of the game. Although the little hamlet of Ardmore, Md., was the District mecca for the many art, Washington fight fans deserted it because of the tinted and fixed affairs that have held the limelight in that arena.

But the greatest of all sporting games will be given another test. A few members of the old school of the roped circle have this time come forth with money and knowledge of promoting the best sport in the right way. Tonight at the Maryland Athletic and Social Club, of Ardmore, Md., these same promoters having booked forty-three rounds of boxing expect to revive the game.

Eddie Connors, the pilot of the new enterprise has left nothing untuned to make his show one of the best that ever has been staged at the Maryland clubhouse.

Although there is no championship class to the bouts, they appear to be matches which will bring out the best of each of the gladiators. Mike Uraime the fighting cop will be forced to extend himself to beat Young Kid Broad the Philadelphia middle-weight. Broad is the same ready and booked for a battle royal of four rounds will open the show.

Fight fans from the Navy Yard Turner, in his three and four-round bouts, during the noon-hour sessions, will in no doubt turn out strong to see him in action against the struggling "Toots" Brown, from Terminal Station, in their six-round bouts.

The preliminaries from a fan's point of view are easily the best that have ever been arranged. John Broad, a former champion, will be in one of the four-rounders, while Young Schultz will meet Eddie Moran in the other four-rounders, and a battle royal of four rounds will open the show.

Land-Gobs and Sea-Dogs to Meet for Title Today

Football fans will journey to the Central Stadium today to witness the battle between two service teams for the Eastern Division championship of the Navy. The Hampton Roads Training Station eleven will be pitted against the team from the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, the title holders of the Atlantic Fleet also the flagships of the fleet. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

The Hampton Roads Station team is the champion eleven of the shore division, as it has defeated all the other training stations, including the Great Lakes Naval Training Station Club. Last Saturday they defeated the Newport, R. I., Training Station club in an extra period for the title which brings them to the Capital to face the championship club of the fleet.

Lieut. Brown, a former George Washington University student, is the star back of the fleet eleven, which on the Hampton Roads team are three local boys who have seen service in the griddon game. Schofield is the line-banker on the Capital and will be seen in action. The summary:

Hampton Roads	Pennsylvania
Quarterback	War Risk
Running Back	War Risk
Fullback	War Risk
Wide Receiver	War Risk
Tight End	War Risk
Left Tackle	War Risk
Center	War Risk
Right Tackle	War Risk
Linebacker	War Risk
Defensive Back	War Risk
Kicker	War Risk

MIKE LYNCH'S SQUAD READY FOR RACE

It is expected that the entry list for the South Atlantic Association annual cross-country championship race will find twenty athletes ready for the starting signal in the hill and dale run in the Monumental City today, which gets under way at 11 o'clock.

Mike Lynch's Washington squad will be on hand to participate in this annual race and expect to capture the team prize, as they have been training hard for this contest and have even chance with their rivals from Baltimore.

Turns Offer Down.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Syracuse University has turned down the offer of the Oregon Agricultural College to play a football game at Portland, Dec. 8, because Syracuse has already played nine games, and has one more game on Thanksgiving day at Lincoln, Neb., with University of Nebraska.

NEW ORLEANS ENTRIES.
